Rebecca Singer-Miller joined Zashin & Rich in 2023. Her practice encompasses all aspects of labor and employment law.

As a Michigan native, Rebecca graduated from Wayne State University in Detroit with her bachelor's degree. She later earned her law degree from Case Western Reserve University School of Law. While at Case Western, Rebecca participated in the Appellate Litigation Clinic where she filed criminal appellate briefs in Ohio state courts and the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals on behalf of her clients.

Outside the clinic, Rebecca competed in Case Western's March Madness-style 2022 Dean Dunmore Moot Court Competition (Final Four) and the ABA's 2023 National Appellate Advocacy Competition. She also served as President of the Women's Law Association and on the executive board of Case Western's nationally ranked health law journal, Health Matrix: Journal of Law-Medicine.

In her free time, Rebecca enjoys being active outside or staying in with a cup of coffee and a good book.

"A lot of hard work is hidden behind nice things."
