Prior to entering private practice, Tiffany served as an Assistant Attorney General at the Ohio Attorney General's Office. There, Tiffany practiced in the labor relations section prosecuting minimum wage and prevailing wage cases on the Ohio Department of Commerce's behalf, as well as investigated unfair labor practice charges for the State Employment Relations Board. Before practicing law, Tiffany was an Information Technology Systems Analyst with PPG in Cleveland, Ohio, where she supported PPG's network, computers, servers, wireless systems and mobile devices, and many other platforms.

Tiffany graduated from Bowling Green State University and received dual degrees, a Master of Public Administration and her Juris Doctor – cum laude, from Cleveland State University and Cleveland-Marshall College of Law, respectively. While at Cleveland-Marshall, Tiffany was elected Student Bar Association President, served as Director of Pre-Law and Recording Secretary for the Black Law Students Association, and competed on the mock trial advocacy team. Tiffany was awarded the Norman S. Minor Scholarship, the Cleveland-Marshall Law Alumni Association Life Member Scholarship, and recognized by Lexis Nexis as an Outstanding Student in the Community Advocacy Clinic.

In her free time, Tiffany enjoys hanging out with family, especially her husband and their children, Michael and Novah; reading, cooking, watching sports, teaching Zumba and relaxing with friends. Tiffany is actively engaged in her local community. Tiffany was a mentor with Minds Matter Cleveland, participated in expungement clinics with her sorority, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., and continuously looks for volunteer and community outreach opportunities.
