

Firm Overview

Zashin & Rich is a law firm built on a wealth of knowledge, experience, and commitment to serving its clients. Since its founding in 1981, Zashin & Rich has established itself as a leader in workplace law and continues to expand and adapt to its clients' changing needs. Zashin & Rich prides itself on its clients' satisfaction, the firm's continued growth and success, and its innovative approach to legal services.

Workplace Law

Numerous laws affect the workplace and complicate the employer-employee relationship. Zashin & Rich advises employers on the laws affecting this relationship, assists employers in developing mutually-beneficial relationships with their employees, and defends employers against employees' claims. The firm represents publicly traded corporations, privately held companies, and public sector employers of all sizes in all aspects of workplace law (employment law, traditional labor law, workers' compensation, etc.). In addition, the firm is panel counsel for most Employment Practices Liability Insurance (EPLI) carriers.

For more information about how Zashin & Rich can assist your business with workplace-related legal issues, please contact Stephen Zashin (ssz@zrlaw.com) at 216.696.4441.

Additional Law Practice Areas

Zashin & Rich's expertise is not limited to workplace law, but extends to business and real estate matters, general and corporate litigation, representation of clients in the sports and entertainment industries, and family law. Whatever your needs, Zashin & Rich provides responsive, proficient, and zealous representation.